

Government is being transformed now!

No Charge for this lunch event—register today!

Life for Civil Servants will be a Roller Coaster Ride...Don't just go along for the ride.

In governments around the world—at the federal, state, and local level—major change is taking place. The Seattle Federal Executive Board and the Graduate School, USDA invite you to an in-depth discussion on this issue based on the research findings of the IBM Center for The Business of Government. The event includes a complimentary lunch with an energetic guest speaker.

The event will be held at the 4th Floor, South Auditorium of the Jackson Federal Building, 915 Second Ave., Seattle from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on Thursday, November 3, 2005. The Graduate School, USDA has outlined an insightful and thought provoking presentation to help you understand the dynamics of the changing government environment.

Space is limited—so register today by calling the Seattle Federal Executive Board at (206) 220-6171 or emailing them at seattlefeb@gsa.gov. If you have any questions, please call (206) 220-6171.

Jointly sponsored by the Seattle Federal Executive Board and the Graduate School, USDA.

GS GRADUATE SCHOOL USDA

Trends Transforming Government

- Changing Rules
- Emphasizing Performance
- Improving Service Delivery
- Increasing Collaboration

Guest Speaker Dr. Jerome Butler

The speaker for this event is Dr. Jerome Butler. Dr. Butler recently retired from the Department of Energy as Director of the Office of Training and Human Resources Development (Senior Executive Service Member). Dr. Butler has more than 30 years of managerial and senior executive experience in all areas of Human Resource Management. Dr. Butler is now a senior advisor with the Graduate School, USDA.